

ask:ted website

The screenshot shows the ask:ted website homepage. At the top left is the ask:ted logo with the tagline 'tackling exclusion and debt'. A yellow navigation bar contains links for Home, About, Events, 7 bees, Links, and Contact. Below the navigation bar is a search bar with a 'Search' button. The main content area features a 'Welcome' message, 'News Updates' with links to 'In danger of losing your home', 'Grants to help you fund your learning', and 'A Cold Weather Payment may be available to you, read on to find out more more news...'. A paragraph explains that people get into debt for various reasons and that 'Ted' stands for 'Tackling exclusion and debt', created by Wakefield and District Housing (WDH). A large yellow banner reads 'Don't get stung by debt!' and offers practical advice on bank accounts, borrowing, budgeting, etc., with a 'Go >>' button. A vertical sidebar on the right contains several sections: 'Accessibility', 'Free Download!' (for a budget calculator), 'Site Map', 'Tips', and 'A to Z' (for glossary terms). Each sidebar section has a 'Go >>' button. At the bottom, it says 'ask:ted is brought to you by Wakefield and District Housing' with the WDH logo, and 'Website approved by Plain English Campaign' with its logo. A footer at the very bottom repeats the navigation links.

Search the ask:ted website for articles about debt and debt advice

Clicking this will give you the option to download a budget calculator. This is something you would download to your personal computer

Very helpful hints and tips on how to save on a daily basis

Debt advice which also gives advice on banks and loans