Important information

You are currently a sole tenant. If we give permission for a joint tenancy you will need to give up your existing sole tenancy. We want you to think very carefully before doing this.

By entering into a joint tenancy, you should understand that both joint tenants have equal rights. If the relationship breaks down in the future, your rights to the tenancy may be at risk. For example, if one joint tenant gives us a notice to quit, the tenancy will end for all tenants and you will lose any rights under the tenancy.

We would strongly suggest that you get some independent advice from Citizens Advice, an advice centre or a solicitor before you proceed with this application.

Declaration

I declare that the information given by me on this application is correct to the best of my knowledge.

I understand that if I knowingly omit or give false information, action will be taken to recover possession of the property.

I also understand that I will need to give up my sole tenancy and I have had the opportunity to take advice before proceeding with my application.
